AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

DR. ROBERT N. MILLS BROUGHT BACK TO WASHINGTON.

He WAS ARRESTED BY PENSION OFFICERS IN VIRGINIA, AND WILL BE TAKEN BACK TO ELMIRA, NEW YORK—STANDING BY THE SETTLEMENTS—WAR DEPARTMENT CHANGES.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Dr. Robert N. Mills, who is wanted in Elmira, N. Y., for complicity in the "Blind" Patterson pension case, whereby the government was swindled out of $13,865, has been brought to this city, having been arrested by pension officers in Virginia. John Laidlaw, who is alleged to have made a false affidavit in the case, was arrested at the same time. Both men will be taken to Elmira as soon as the proper papers arrive. At the pension office this is regarded as one of the biggest and most clever jobs ever worked through that bureau. Every detail in the case was complete and perfect, and after extra care in examining the papers, because of the large sum involved, by no less than five different men, the case was finally passed.

It was then that the conspirator's, suspicious of Patterson, asked that Mills be appointed guardian for Patterson, but Deputy Commissioner McLean telephoned the pension agent to pay Patterson the money in person, as blindness did not constitute such an infirmity in the law as to require a guardian. Foiled in this the conspirators found other but more violent means to secure most of Patterson's money. Having done so, they fell out among themselves as to its proper distribution and one of the "affidavit" men who failed to get his proper share gave the whole thing away to the officials in New York.

The police department in this city received a telegram on the 17th inst., asking that Mills be arrested. Detectives Carter and Mahon ascertained that Dr. Mills had been at the St. James hotel that morning but had left on the southern train. Learning that he was on his way to his former home in Greene county, they gave the information to the pension office. One of the special agents of that office, Mr. Jacobs, left here Wednesday and found that Mills and his wife and John Laidlaw, a shoemaker, who is alleged to have made the other fraudulent affidavit, had joined Mills the day after his arrival in Greene county, and they were all at the house of a sister of Mills fourteen miles from Orange Court House. Calling in the aid of Sheriff Ricketts, of Orange county, the arrest of Dr. Mills, Mrs. Mills and Laidlaw was effected.

Mr. Jacobs, with the sheriff, and Mr. Walback arrived in this city with the prisoners and they were taken to the Sixth precinct station and the two men were locked up. There was found on Mrs. Mills' person, $650, and it was ascertained that Dr. Mills had paid off a mortgage of $1,700 on his hotel in New York, and had bought a farm for his sister in Greene county, Virginia.

Mrs. Mills asserts that she knew nothing of Dr. Mills' connection with the case, and did not know there was any suspicion of wrong about it till she read the statements in the paper last Sunday week. Dr. Mills does not deny his connection with the case, but asserts that as far as he was concerned there was no fraud about it, and that he can satisfactorily explain everything, and adds that he is anxious for a speedy and full investigation.

STANDING BY THE SETTLERS.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Land Commissioner Sparks has transmitted to the secretary of the interior a recommendation, which, if adopted, will mark a new departure in the relations of the general land office with the corporations of the country and the settlers. The commissioners state that it is the practice of certain railroads, even after the patents have been issued to settlers to continue the fight in the courts and thus by vexatious delays and actions, to so harass the settlers, who have not the means to follow the case as to compel them to pay the railroads to quit its alleged title to the settler's land.

To stop this and to have the United States take up the settlers' fight is the desire of Commissioner Sparks. A case was reported to the secretary of the interior to-day, that of W. W. Maltacks, a settler in Kansas, who located on land within the indemnity limits of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway and who settled in 1866, before the railroad withdrawal was made, but who was prevented from putting his claim on record in the local land office by erroneous advice of the register of the United States land office, who was at the same time an official of the railroad company. Then when the settler again applied to enter he was told that the lands were withdrawn for the railroad. In 1873 the tract occupied by the settler was patented to the railroad company. This settler remained on the land, where he has been with his family for more than twenty years and has a farm worth $2,500.

The railroad company attempted to oust him by proceedings in the district court of the state. The court decided in favor of the settler, and the railroad company appealed to the supreme court of the state. The settler applied to the department of the interior for relief from the persecutions of the railroad companies, stating that he was unable to defend his claim through all the courts. Commissioner Sparks recommended to the secretary that suit be at once brought to set aside the railroad patent, and that the United States attorney was instructed through the department of justice to appear in the state supreme court and advise the court of such action, and to take such steps and file such motions as may be necessary to protect the settler's home.

ORDER FROM THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—An order will soon be issued from the war department, making the following important changes of stations in the army, which will go into effect as soon after the 1st of July as possible. The headquarters band and four troops of the Seventh cavalry will be transferred from Fort Meade, Dak., by marching to Fort Riley, Kan. The headquarters of the Fifth cavalry, now at Fort Riley, will be transferred to such post in the Indian Territory as the commanding general of the department of the Missouri may designate.

Two of the Fifth cavalry troops at Fort Riley will go to Fort Bill, Indian Territory, and the other two to Fort Elliott, Tex.

This will give Col. Forsyth, of the cavalry, commander of the new cavalry and artillery school, the latter authorized by congress for the construction of which, $200,000 is now being expended. The troops of the third cavalry, now at Fort Elliott, and the two troops of the same regiment now at Fort Sill, are to be transferred by marching to the department of Texas and then by marching all the troops of the third cavalry, will change stations with the eighth cavalry.

This will put the third cavalry on the Lower Rio Grande. The twelfth infantry, now stationed in the department of the lakes, will change by rail with the eleventh infantry, and be in the department of Dakota, with headquarters at Fort Sully.

RELIEF FOR THE MONEY MARKET.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Secretary Fairchild to-day ordered the immediate payment of the interest which will fall due July 1 on United States four per cent bonds, and on Pacific railroad bonds amounting in all to about $9,000,000. The secretary says that he has received no more unfavorable information, but that he believes that this payment of interest throughout the country, a few days in advance, would have a beneficial effect.

A BOY SPECULATOR.

MAKING A FORTUNE OF $60,000 BEFORE HE IS TWENTY, AND LOSING IT.

OIL CITY, Pa., June 27.—In the oil exchange to-day Mike Keating failed for $41. Keating is but twenty-four years of age, and yet he has made and lost a fortune in oil speculation. Early in the summer of 1882 when the Cherry Grove gushers were depressing oil values, Keating, then nineteen years old, was a messenger in the Western Union telegraph office at this place. It was well known in Oil City that he speculated in a small way in oil through another party, he not being old enough to be admitted to the exchange.

It was said that he interpreted the cypher dispatches of some of the heavy operators for the Standard Oil company, and speculated on the knowledge thus gained. At all events, on the boom that followed the collapse of Cherry Grove, he rolled up $60,000 in a few months. He was still under twenty years of age. The phenomenal success of the boy speculator was widely heralded. He then took a pleasure trip to Cincinnati, Chicago and other western cities, leaving most of his fortune in the hands of a friend here to manipulate for him. The friend, operating on his own judgment, and doing what he thought best for the boy, played the bull side of the market and lost. After a sojourn of two months Mike returned to Oil City an almost penniless boy, finding a fortune that might have lasted him a lifetime gone. At the age of twenty-one he entered the oil exchange, and has since carried on a brokerage business. He says he will make up his difference of $41 and begin over again.

DESPONDENT AND DEATH.

A YOUNG WIFE SNELLODES IN CHICAGO ON ACCOUNT OF LONELINESS.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The dead body of Mrs. Julian Jacobs, the young and beautiful wife of H. E. Jacobs, a drummer, was found yesterday in her room at 2433 Wabash avenue, and an empty laudanum bottle on the table near by told the manner of her death. The body had hardly been decently arranged on the temporary bier in the parlor when the door opened and the unsuspecting husband walked into the room. He turned ghastly pale when his gaze fell upon the white shrouded form, and hastily lifting the sheet from her dead face, fell to the floor and passed from one fainting fit into another.

When he recovered he was unable to assign any reason to the police for the deed, but in the evening when he became more composed, he said his wife was always very lonely when he was away on his trips, and she sometimes became so despondent that she told him she had thought several times of committing suicide. She had few acquaintances in Chicago, and during his long absence was entirely alone and became very gloomy.

BIG FIRE IN LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 27.—A fire, which seems to have had an incendiary origin, destroyed over $300,000 worth of property in tobacco and tobacco warehouses at 2 o'clock this morning, starting in the rear of the Boone tobacco warehouse, right in the middle of the block, bounded by Main, Market, Ninth and Tenth streets. The property destroyed was the Boone warehouse, owned by Thomas H. Glover, valued at $15,000, and the contents, 1,500 hogsheads of tobacco, worth $125,000, partially insured; Sawyer, Wallace & Co., warehouse, owned by Henry Glover, worth $20,000 and about $60,000 worth of tobacco, well insured; the Banner warehouse, owned by B. M. Parish & Co., worth $7,000, and containing 500 hogsheads of tobacco, loss $45,000; Mrs. Annie Bender's boarding house, $600; the inmates had a narrow escape. All the buildings were substantial brick structures, with metal roofs. The approximate loss on tobacco destroyed, is set down at $280,000; loss on warehouse buildings at about $42,000; boarding house and stable at $4,500; Ainslie, Cochran & Co., foundry at $1,000; total, $327,500.

CINCINNATI CENTENIAL.

CINCINNATI, June 27.—The total amount of the $1,000,000 guaranteed fund for the proposed Centennial expedition to be held in Cincinnati next year, in sight is about $750,000, and the commissioners have every reason to believe that the full amount required will be placed in their hands. In the meantime they are making a very careful and patient canvass of the city, and are meeting with very good success.

HANGED HIMSELF IN HIS CELL.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 27.—John M. Mayer, an insane man, of Austintown, placed in jail here some days ago awaiting transfer to the asylum, this morning tied a sheet around his neck, and fastening the other end to a scaffold improvised from a broomstick and a mophandle, hanged himself in his cell.

FOUND WITH HIS NECK BROKEN.

BATAVIA, N. Y., June 27.—Dennis Gilhooley crawled into Charles Blumreich's barn last night to sleep off a drunk. This morning his body was found outside with his neck broken. The coroner is investigating.

THE CREDITORS' MEETING.

A SMALL GRAIN OF COMFORT FOR THE FIDELITY DEPOSITORS.

EVERYTHING QUIET AROUND THE BROKEN BANK WITH COMPTROLLER TRENTHOLM AND HIS ASSISTANTS HARD AT WORK TRYING TO REACH SOME UNDERSTANDING.

CINCINNATI, June 27.—Everything is now quiet at the Fidelity bank building. The bank clerks under the supervision of Comptroller Trentholm have been busy straightening out the books and answering the inquiries of the hosts of creditors, borrowers and lawyers. However, things are beginning to look brighter for the depositors. It is found that the loans of the bank are good and they amount to considerable.

The only trouble is that much of the business paper which it held was hypothecated during the last week of intense pressure. But they nevertheless will realize a large sum, and when the stockholders pay their double liability and the directors help out, the depositors will not be in such a bad box after all.

It might be well to say the government is not a preferred creditor. There is a general impression that Uncle Sam will first take what is due him and leave what is left to the unfortunate creditors. This is an error. The government has bonds in Washington to secure its loans, or rather deposits, and it will simply keep the bonds and nothing more. It will not take a cent of the assets at Cincinnati.

It is becoming evident that Harper was the sole genius that inspired the great steal. He makes the lame excuse that he got in the deal and had to stick it out. But that does not pardon him for using other people's money. In fact, it is the excuse of a man who is so far gone that he catches at anything. Those who are in places to know now say that Hopkins and Baldwin blindly followed Harper's instructions, and were as much in the dark as anyone. But the developments that are being made are more and more damaging to Mr. Harper. He made his clerks do dishonorable and even criminal things. He lied right and left, and through it all he was as cheery and as apparently light-hearted as though he were walking ways of righteousness and his deeds were those of a pure and unadulterated goodness, whose ineffable excellence cast a beautiful reflection all around him.

The call for a meeting of the depositors of the Fidelity caused Stewart's half, at the northwest corner of Race and seventh, to be well filled by 10 a. m., the designated hour. About two hundred and fifty of those taken in by the collapsed "largest bank in Ohio" were present. The general appearance and demeanor of the crowd was complimentary to it. The business men seemed, perhaps, to be the predominating element, the small business man in contradistinction to the heavy wholesaler.

The callous fisted sons of toil, however, made by no means an insignificant showing on the floor. Perhaps those in attendance who attracted the most sympathy were the ladies. There were a large number of these, mostly elderly ladies, and apparently none of them so

THE American Grocer predicts an active fall trade. The crops are good, and the foreign demand for domestic products better than last year.

A Simpson County colored man rises to remark: "Times am changed; de hog law, lokal action and de bar'd wire fences am a gwinne to ruin de country."

A. H. CARDIN says to the Union Labor Party of Kentucky: "Your candidate for Governor I can not be." This leaves the party and its ticket without a head.

THE Covington Commonwealth remarks that Craig Tolliver's last "official" act was to notify Dr. J. A. Huff, Prohibition candidate for State Senator, that he must not enter Rowan County.

THE statement is made that thirty of the thirty-five Republican counties in Kentucky are what is known as "pauper" counties—that is, they draw from the State Treasury more than they pay in.

IT'S an ill wind that blows no one good. A New York banker recently remarked, "the pricking of the wheat speculation and the upsetting of the coffee deal probably averted a serious panic the coming fall."

THE statement is made that there are 30,000 persons living in Germany alone whose names are on the pension rolls of this country. It looks very much like the pension business is being carried a little too far.

THE total amount of money expended for school purposes in Brown County, O., last year was $77,022. Of this sum only $15,495, just about one-fifth, was received from the State. Will the Daily Republican please make a note of this?

IF the college-removal question is agitated a little more in Central Kentucky, it will result in more harm to such institutions than good. It looks very much like some of the towns are being "bled." The cry is, increase the endowment or lose the college.

THE Frankfort Capital compliments one of Germantown's worthy citizens in the following: "Hon. Joseph A. Walton has been nominated by the Democracy of Bracken County as their candidate for the Legislature. Mr. Walton is a prominent young merchant of the county, an unwavering Democrat, and will make a careful and excellent Legislator."

HON. W. C. P. BRECKINRIDGE is not going to have a walkover for the nomination for Congress in the Lexington district next time. On the contrary it begins to look as though he will have to "git up and hustle" to pull through. Hon. C. J. Bronston, of Fayette, Hon. C. M. Clay, Jr., of Bourbon, and Hon. W. C. Owens, of Scott, all talented Democrats, good and true, are mentioned in connection with the race, and will likely oppose the "silver-tongued orator" from Lexington.

THE statement is made that Hon. W. H. Holt, Judge of the Court of Appeals, has come out for prohibition. He was elected as a Republican. A writer commenting on the subject gives the following as explanatory of the change:

"He says that since he came on the bench, three years ago, seventy-five out of the eighty-five per cent. of criminal cases before that court have been directly attributable to the curse of liquor, and that as a Christian man, having both the temporal and eternal welfare of humanity dear to him, he cannot longer uphold, by either word or precept, the leading cause of its degradation."

Cleveland and the Offices.

There is but one Republican Internal Revenue Collector in this country now, and he holds on to a district, we believe, up in New York. The Democratic administration has cleaned out the Republican office-holders pretty thoroughly, and the cry, "Turn the rascals out," uttered so often when Cleveland entered upon his official duties, is rarely ever heard now. Out of 56,000 offices enumerated, it is alleged that changes have been made in 48,000. Thus, out of 2,359 Presidential postmasters, it is estimated that 2,000 have been supplanted by Democrats. Out of 52,609 postmasters of the fourth class the estimate gives 45,000 changes. Out of a possible 111 Collectors of Customs the President has scored 100, and 85 Collectors of Internal Revenue have yielded 84 places. Cleveland's course has been the proper one, and is approved by the people. The "kicking" has been done by disappointed office-seekers.

THE latest from the bank failure at Cincinnati is that the depositors will receive about one-fourth of their money.

THE Lexington Gazette, the first newspaper published west of the Allegheny mountains, will celebrate its centennial anniversary on the 11th of August. Its last issue closed its twenty-first volume under the present management.

THE 'Squires are coming to the front, since that fellow Stofer, of Mt. Sterling, attempted to knock out the Court of Appeals. The list of those nominated for the Legislature this year is gradually increasing, the latest being 'Squire James Wood, the Prohibition nominee in Madison County.

JOHN HEISER, the popular proprietor of the European Hotel, is mentioned as a probable candidate for Councilman from the Third ward, to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of W. H. Yancey from the city. A better man for the position and one more worthy of the honor can't be found in the ward.

A Strange Suit.

Mrs. Margaret Kincaid and Mr. John Templeman are neighbors in the southern part of the county. Mr. Templeman owns and keeps in repair the line fence. A mare and colt and mule colt belonging to Mrs. Kincaid have for some time been trespassing on Mr. Templeman's lands. Last winter he notified Mrs. Kincaid of the fact. Next time he found the aforesaid animals on his land, he put them in his stable and refused to give them up. Mrs. Kincaid sued for the possession of the animals, and the case was tried by a jury in Common Pleas Court last week. Judge Scott instructed the jury to find that the animals under the law belonged to Templeman, if they had trespassed as above set forth, and the verdict was accordingly rendered.

First Holy Communion.

Yesterday was a day to be remembered by some of the young folks of St. Patrick's Church, this city. At the 7 o'clock mass seventy-six boys and girls received their first holy communion, after which Rev. Father Glorieux gave some timely instruction. The altars presented a lovely appearance, dressed for the occasion with flowers and lighted tapers. The young misses, attired in their white dresses, long white veils, and wreaths, looked their sweetest, and the boys were at their best. In the afternoon the children renewed their baptismal vows, and on Wednesday morning, at the 9:30 mass, they will receive the holy sacrament of confirmation.

That Extra Ten Cents.

William McDonald has recently recovered a judgement for $150 damages against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, in the Common Pleas Court at Louisville. McDonald was at Anchorage, Ky., and got on the train without ticket. He tendered the regular price for a ticket to Louisville, 35 cents, but the conductor demanded 10 cents more, as required by the rules of the company. It was not forthcoming and McDonald was put off. He brought suit for damages with the above result.

It has been customary for the railroads to charge more when a person does not buy a ticket, and the rule is now enforced on the Kentucky Central.

Latest from Rowan.

At last accounts all was quiet at Morehead, but further trouble is anticipated. The correspondent of the Lousiville Commercial says: "The friends of the dead men in Mt. Sterling, and of Z. Taylor Young, have been heard make some very serious threats against the law and order men, who did such sanguinary work last week." It is also reported that the friends of the Tollivers in Elliot County have already formed an organization for the purpose of taking revenge on the slayers of their chief.

Andy Tolliver has gone to Morgan County where he is now stopping at the house of a friend. He is suffering with three wounds.

The boy, Cal Tolliver, who escaped the pose by hiding under a house, is now at Hoggtown. He, too, is painfully wounded. The Mt. Sterling correspondent of Louisville Post says: "A prominent and well-known citizen of Montgomery County, who, of course, desires his name suppressed, has said to the Post that Taylor Young and his son, Allie, will be arrested and tried for high crimes that many people are not now aware of, and that both will be convicted, if evidence alone is allowed to do its work before a jury."

"What this crime is the gentleman declined to state, for reasons that are appreciated by those acquainted with Rowan County."

Allie Young and Z. T. Young, Jr., have been released by Judge Cooper, of Mt. Sterling. They executed bond to appear at Morehead to answer the charge of murder.

It is understood at Mt. Sterling that the evidence is sufficient to convict Allie Young of murder. He threatens to kill himself before being taken to Morehead, saying that he might as well die among his friends as by the hands of his enemies.

AMONG the Carlisle Mercury's list of curiosities are a bunch of seventy-seven stalks of rye from one grain, and an onion with a diamond (?) ring on it. Richards & Co. have traced the matter up, and recovered their property. Feeback pocketed the cash he got from Bland and has made himself scarce, his present whereabouts being unknown.

THE City Council of Paris is considering a proposition to erect water works at that place. The offer was made by Mr. Davenport, of Charleston, W. Va. The News says: "The plant is of the non-reservoir plan, with a perfect system of filtering, with a pressure of 200 pounds to the inch, enabling streams to be thrown from six fire plugs simultaneously 125 feet high. The proposition made to the council is in substance, that the plant be granted Mr. Davenport, and he will erect the works at a cost of about $100,000 at his own expense, the city being obliged to pay a rental of $3,000 per annum for thirty years for sixty-five fire plugs—public buildings to be supplied free, and consumers at a nominal cost."

CLICKS FROM THE CABLE.

THE ROMANTIC ESCAPE OF COUNTESS MERCEDES CAMPOS.

A Reason Given for the Strange Actions of the Heiress—Deserving of More Sympathy
Than Censure—Terrible Work of an Insane Woman—Other News.

LONDON, June 27.—The sojourn at Dover of the sloping heiress, Mademoiselle, the Countess Mercedes Campos and her adventurer lover is attracting much attention, and her repeated futile attempts to marry the man with whom she has cast her lot excites considerable sympathy among those with whom romantic escapades find favor. This particular affair, like all others of its class, possesses phases of absurdity and aspects of real pathos.

In most respects it is true, it differs very little from the ordinary elopement of the heiress and the fortune hunter, there being nothing not disgustingly commonplace in the fact that a beautiful and wealthy woman has runaway with a man bankrupt in pocket and character, wholly incapable of supporting her and determinedly averse to maintaining himself. Neither is there anything unprecedented in the fact that the woman's relatives are excessively solicitous for her welfare and the custody of the money they see drifting farther and farther out of their reach through the independent action of its owner, or the spectacle of her penniless companion clinging tenaciously to the fortune of his mistress and endeavoring to make secure his claim to its ownership through the medium of priest and ring. But there is in the affair something which appeals to the lover of fair play as almost condoning the young woman's offense and exalting the scamp whose victim she is to the plane of an honorable man.

From what has transpired through the action of the Campos family and in other ways since the arrival of Mlle Campos at Dover, the fact has been established beyond reasonable doubt that the young woman's flight from Paris was the result of a series of persecutions at the hands of her relatives proceeding from mercenary motives and contemplating the ultimate absorption of her fortune. Not to mind words, but to call a spade a spade, the lady, by placing herself under the doubtful protection of Mielvague, alias Garboeuf, removed herself, temporarily at least, from the power of as precious a set of harpies as ever preyed upon humanity and possibly escaped the horrors of a lunatic asylum, to which she would no doubt have been consigned by the grief-stricken circle who deplore her rashness, but tearfully express their willingness to forgive her and take her once more to their hearts.

The impression is fast obtaining at Dover that the young woman is deserving more of sympathy than of censure, and of the former she is receiving an abundance. As to the wisdom of her determination to marry Mielvague the preponderance of the advice prenuptial persons would offer her if they could get the chance would be of a decidedly negative character, but from all that is known of her experience with her dear relatives her escape from the frying pan into the fire, though it be, is regarded as providential.

Terrible Work of an Insane Woman.

EDINBURGH, June 27.—A terrible tragedy was enacted to-day at a place called Airth, near Geangemouth. The wife of the Rev. Dr. Leckie, a Presbyterian minister, was the actor and the victim her three children. The woman in a sudden fit of insanity seized her three little ones and successively cut their throats. She then turned the blade, with which she had so ruthlessly slain her offspring, on her own throat, inflicting a wound which terminated fatally. The woman was undoubtedly insane.

Fighting Five Bears.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—Keeper George Harrison entered a cage containing five bears in the Zoological Garden yesterday, for the purpose of preventing what promised to develop into an all-round fight among the animals. A large grizzly, infuriated at the taste of blood from the lacerated sides of one of the smaller bears, attacked the keeper, and was soon backed up by the others. Harrison fought the five animals for nearly ten minutes, until four assistant keepers came to his aid with clubs and succeeded in subjugating the brutes. The daring keeper was severely bruised, and his clothes were torn in strips. He was given proper medical treatment.

Rolling Mill to Shut Down.

READING, Pa., June 27.—President Colt, of the Reading Iron works, stated to-day that the tube works, rolling and sheet mill of that corporation would shut down on July 21, throwing out of employment 2,000 hands, with a pay roll of $10,000 per month. There is no strike, and Mr. Colt states that the works will be closed for an indefinite period.

DOMINION WAR IMMINENT.

Next Week May Witness a General Uprising in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 27.—Secret orders have been issued to local volunteer battalions to hold themselves in readiness for active service. This is believed to be a ruse on the part of the Dominion government to send volunteers out west under the pretense that another uprising among the Indians is feared, so that the government can easily carry out their evident intention of preventing Manitoba from building the proposed road to the United States boundary. It is said to be the government's intention to send into Winnipeg the mounted police in the absence of volunteers and to coerce the province into submission. Many citizens are discussing the situation, and means are being devised to meet the government and checkmate its scheme.

If the Federal authorities resort to force, Government house and Fort Osborne will be razed and a big riot will follow. The poor are ready to go to any extremity should the Dominion government attempt forcible resistance to the scheme so dear to every Manitoban's heart. As the contractors begin work next week something must give way, and an interesting time is expected.

Overproduction in Straw Board.

CHICAGO, June 27.—A local paper says: The Union Straw Board company, comprising some twenty manufacturers all over the country, will, on and after January 1, cease to exist. The association has been running for the last year and a half, but the members have failed to get all to come into their combination. The outsiders have been cutting prices, and that, in addition to an overproduced market, has mitigated against the interest of the association. Each day 200 tons of straw board are utilized, while 300 tons daily are manufactured, and the present result in the market was inevitable. In New York the warehouses and everything are filled, and the directors have decided that the association can be of no present use and that many of the mills will be obliged to shut down.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 27.—Fire broke out last night at 11 o'clock and to tally destroyed the large brick block corner of Bay and Clay streets, occupied by Clark & Lestus, furniture, Watson & Co., drugs, and Sable Bros' leather.
